

Reporting Outside Activities on Other Support Pages

In and of themselves, Outside Activities DO NOT need to be reported on Other Support Pages; however, if an Outside Activity is also providing you with resources that you can use towards your research endeavors, then the resource that the Outside Activity provides should be included on your Other Support Page.

Report these on Other Support Pages

Examples of resources that generally should be included on your Other Support page if the resource is used in your research endeavors:

- Grant Funding
- Other funding earmarked for research
- Fellows/Trainees
- Equipment (or access to equipment)
- Reagents, drugs, chemicals, animal models or other supplies
- Lab space
- Scientific Appointments and Positions
